PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS (43-46 total hours)

Latin
- 301* Classical Latin Poetry (Prereq.: Latin 201) 3.0
- 302* Classical Latin Prose (Prereq.: Latin 201) 3.0

Note 1: Latin 101, 102 can be replaced with Latin 111 (Beginning Latin Accelerated 5.0 hours)

Note 2: Latin 101, 102, 111 may be waived with equivalent language experience.

Complete IHum 311: Adv Wrtg in Comparative Arts & Humanities or another GE-approved Adv. Written and Oral Communication course.

Complete 6 hours from the following in the same language as above. In both languages the 302 course is the prerequisite for all 400-level prose courses in the same language and the 301 course is the prerequisite for all 400-level poetry courses in the same language. Concurrent enrollment will be permitted only in rare and special cases and must have the approval both of the classics section head and of the instructor of the 400-level course concerned.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES:

Majors in Classical Studies find employment in a variety of fields, including business, education, library science, tourism, and civil and foreign service. They are also excellent candidates for graduate work in other humanities-related disciplines and professional schools (law, business, and medicine).

CAREER STRATEGIES:

Education — teaching, research, administration in colleges or universities, junior colleges, Church education, secondary schools. Obtain PhD for college/university teaching position; obtain BA for secondary schools (many Latin/Mythology/Ancient History teaching positions go unfilled each year).

Education support — museums, libraries. Obtain BA in Classical Studies and MA in Museum Administration; obtain BA in Classical Studies and MLS or MA in Book Preservation/Rare Books.

Professional — law, medicine. Classical Studies majors — writing, editing, technical writing, journalism, advertising with publishers, insurance companies, travel agencies, magazine and newspapers, professional/trade organizations, advertising agencies. Keen sense of structure of language and an extremely expanded vocabulary result from majoring in Classical Studies.

Business — management, marketing, human resource, advertising, finance, insurance, lobbying with business firms, insurance companies, bookstores, marketing research, museums, travel agencies, real estate. Complete a business minor. MBA programs prefer liberal arts majors with some business courses.

Government — staff positions, congressional staffs, foreign service in federal, state, and local governments, federal agencies, foreign service, national and state endowments for the humanities. Learn federal, state, and local job application process. Several BYU Classics alumni are members of the US Foreign Service Diplomatic Corps.

General Education courses, and/or general electives 7.0
Total Hours 15.0

Note: Contact the college advisement center for help in outlining an efficient schedule.

Note: Students are encouraged to complete an average of 15 credit hours each semester or 30 credit hours each year, which could include spring and/or summer terms. Taking fewer credits substantially increases the cost and the number of semesters to graduate.

THE DISCIPLINE:

Classical Studies examine ancient Greek and Roman cultures—their languages, literature, history, religion, art, and philosophy.

The major offers essential knowledge of philology, ancient history, archaeology, biblical studies, and the literary tradition of Western Europe, as well as traditional grounding in the Classics. Students acquire important foreign-language study skills that include careful reading, thoughtful writing, and persuasive speaking. Latin is the mother language not only of Italian, French, and Spanish, but in a real sense of English as well. Its study will especially enhance one’s understanding of English vocabulary, grammar, and rhetorical structure.
