programs abroad as approved by the department. Students unable to participate in one of these programs must spend at least one year (two semesters) in the Foreign Language Student Residence, pledging to use only Spanish within the residence. Prerequisite to this experience is Span 201 or its equivalent; any exceptions must be approved by the department. For further information contact the department secretary or the Foreign Language Student Residence Office (3086 JFSB, BYU, Provo, UT 84602 [801] 422-3765).

The Foreign Language Student Residence provides live-in opportunities for students in Spanish. A twenty-four-hour-a-day Spanish rule assures participants interactive use of the language, under the direction of native speakers. See the department secretary at 3190 JFSB for information.

The Foreign Residency
The department strongly recommends that all majors participate in an extended (at least two continuous months) and intensive language and culture experience in a Spanish-speaking country or area:

1. Residency abroad (may include a Spanish LDS mission, attendance at a foreign university, an advanced exchange program, or similar intensive foreign residence).
2. Participating in BYU Study Abroad Programs in Spain or Spanish America.
3. Participating in individual or group-arranged internship

BA in SPANISH TEACHING (555422)
2015–2016

THE MAJOR:
The BA in Spanish Teaching at Brigham Young University is designed to prepare students for professional licensure to teach Spanish in secondary schools. The program aims to develop a broad foundation in the Spanish language and Hispanic literatures and cultures, as well as the specific knowledge and skills necessary to teach Spanish to adolescents in public school settings. The Spanish Teaching BA program is one of nearly 30 programs in BYU’s Educator Preparation Program. As such, it also encompasses the general goals for all teaching majors at BYU (see http://education.byu.edu/cites/new_statement.html ).

Note: A student should complete this requirement by:
1. Residency abroad (may include a Spanish LDS mission, attendance at a foreign university, an advanced exchange program, or similar intensive foreign residence).
2. Participating in BYU Study Abroad Programs in Spain or Spanish America.
3. Participating in individual or group-arranged internship.

The Spanish Teaching major is a limited enrollment program, which means that students must apply for admission to the program. Before applying, students must complete Flang 276 (Exploration of Language Teaching), offered on the first block during Fall and Winter semesters. Immediately upon completion of 276, students may apply to the Spanish Teaching major. Application deadlines are Oct. 31 and Feb. 28. Application is done through the MyLink database (https://mylink.byu.edu/home )
