Note 1: Some required courses are only offered Fall or Winter; some are only offered even or odd years. The suggested four year sequence reflects this.

Note 2: Students should consider taking Anthr 110/H to satisfy their Social Science requirement.

Note 3: Students should consider taking Geog 271 (Fall, even) if they are not familiar with modern Middle East geography.

Note 4: ANES/HB students are encouraged to take at least one year of Biblical Hebrew.

Note 5: ANES/GNT students are encouraged to take at least one year of Greek.

Note 6: BYU-Jerusalem students may substitute Rel A 303 and 311 for Rel A 301 and 211.

Note 7: ANES-HB students may minor in Biblical Hebrew only with program and departmental approval.

THE DISCIPLINE:

Ancient Near Eastern Studies deals with the history, literature, religions, and cultures of the ancient Near East from 3000 BC to AD 640. It involves study in the humanities, social sciences, and ancient scripture. Geographically, the ancient Near East consists of the region currently designated the Middle East. The Ancient Near Eastern Studies major is structured to provide students with a broad understanding of the civilizations of the ancient Near East, and to emphasize the study of the Hebrew Bible and related literature or the Greek New Testament and related literature in their broader ancient Near Eastern context.

INTERNSHIPS:

All students majoring in International and Area Studies programs are encouraged to seek a meaningful experience with a foreign culture as part of their academic program. Credit earned while participating in a university-sponsored Study Abroad program, the Washington Seminar, international internships, or other supervised foreign experiences may be applied toward major requirements. For further information see the faculty coordinator.

HONORARY SOCIETIES AND CLUBS:

International Student Association, Intercultural Outreach (IAS 353R), Model U.N. (IAS 351R), Sigma Iota Rho, and Student Society for Ancient Studies.

FINANCING:

Many students work up to 20 hours per week. Some find employment in campus offices and some junior and senior students obtain teaching or research assistantships. Most of our students obtain summer jobs that make use of their training and interests.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES:

The Ancient Near Eastern Studies major prepares students to pursue graduate work and an academic career in all areas of biblical and ancient Near Eastern studies. Ancient Near Eastern Studies, with its emphasis on critical reading, thinking, and writing skills, also provides quality training for students entering professional or library science programs. Additionally, an Ancient Near Eastern Studies degree offers relevant preparation for students seeking to teach seminary and institute in the Church Educational System.

Note: Students are encouraged to complete an average of 15 credit hours each semester or 30 credit hours each year, which could include spring and/or summer terms. Taking fewer credits substantially increases the cost and the number of semesters to graduate.
